Description:

In this workshop, we will explore how to create a positive classroom environment that connects students to each other and to teachers to students, thereby significantly improving class cohesion and centripetal force. By focusing on the three core elements of security, comfort and belonging, I will share my own classroom management strategies and, through peer-to-peer discussions and exchanges, we will work together to uncover and refine approaches that best suit the environment and needs of our own classrooms.

Outcome:

Methods and strategies for creating a good classroom atmosphere.
