

Power of Play (CN)

Iris Fan (WD)

Counselor

Description:

The "Power of Play" workshop will explore a variety of interactive games for classes and schools. These games are not only fun, but also effective in promoting students' cognitive, emotional and social development. On this journey, you will learn about the "healing factor" of the game. You will find a range of games designed to stimulate students' minds, develop emotional intelligence and promote teamwork. Participants will participate in a range of games, including relaxation games, venting games, emotional awareness games, social games, etc., to gain the experience of games and learn how to use these games in daily teaching to promote student development.
